

Bobby Norfolk

Emmy
Award-Winning
Storyteller

This exciting program, which played to standing ovations at the Smithsonian Institution, takes you on a journey to Africa through folktales and music.

Celebrating African Music, Traditions & Culture through Storytelling

This dynamic one-person performance captivates audiences of all ages, bringing to life the rich & colorful Ashanti culture of Ghana, West Africa through songs, audience participation and stories. Bobby explores this fascinating area of the world with stories, poetry, and prose. He demonstrates oral traditions with songs and chants, and teaches African greetings in Swahili such as Asante' Sana and Fanga Alafia through call and response.

Ideal for Black History Month,
African Festivals, Cultural Diversity Days, Music-Based
School Programs, and Special
Community Events.
